The Lick Observatory Clocks.

The Lick Observatory has five standard clocks by the best makers in the world. They are all bolted to heavy brick piers, which pass up through the floor of a room specially constructed for the purpose, with double doors, windows, and walls throughout. The piers are built on the solid rock of the mountain, and are entirely disconnected from the building, so that no jar can be communicated to the clocks. The double walls of the room effectually guard against sudden changes of temperature. Five chronometers are also kept here, two of which are regularly used in connection with the time service. In some observatories the clock-room is situated deep under ground, and the clocks are even sealed up in air-tight cases, but the equable climate of California renders this unnecessary on Mt. Hamilton. Four of the observatory clocks keep sidereal time, and are allowed to run without regulation, their errors being allowed for; the fifth is the standard mean time clock, and is constantly adjusted, so as to be as nearly right as possible every day at noon, when time signals are transmitted to the railroads. This is effected by means of small weights of different sizes. The one most used makes the clock gain a tenth of a second per hour when placed on top of the pendulum, and makes it lose the same amount when placed on a little shelf at the bottom. It weighs 73.1 grains. The clock is compared with one of the sidereal clocks and two chronometers ever day a little before 9 o'clock in the morning, and thus its error is determined. Then the weight is applied, so as to correct the error before noon. If, for instance, the clock should be found two-tenths of a second slow, the weight would be put on top of the pendulum and removed at the end of two hours, when the clock would be just right. The pendulum is of itself so nearly in adjustment that the clock will run a day without getting more than the tenth of a second out, and it is hardly ever necessary to correct an error of as much as two-tenths of a second. The rule which has been adopted is to always have the clock within a tenth of a second at noon. Another comparison with the two chronometers immediately after the noon signals are sent gives the precise amount of error of the latter. The errors of the sidereal clocks are determined by observation three times a week. There are other methods of regulating a clock without disturbing its pendulum, but probably none are simpler and better than this.

Criticizing the Critic.

That Mr. Howells should land Tolstoi's work so extravagantly is not natural, or natural only on the supposition that his critical opinions are the hasty impulses of his heart and not the deliberate convictions of his head. If we may say so without offense—for no offense is intended—Mr. Howells seems to have lost his head about Tolstoi, Turgenief and other Russian novelists, as he lost his head about Thackeray, Dickens, Scott, and other English novelists. He has done Tolstoi more harm than good; for nothing so harms a man, even a great man, as to praise him for his worst qualities. It is, we fear, an American habit, but one which has hitherto exercised itself in the making of political and military reputations and not in making of great letters. Politicians and soldiers are creatures of circumstances; author who are worthy of the name—poets, dramatists, historians, novelists—are the creatures of nothing, but the creators of all that is most human and beautiful and permanent in the world of thought. "Glory be with them, and eternal praise."—R. H. Stoddard.

IT'S HARRISON!

The Nomination of a Candidate for Vice President Next in Order.

CONVENTION HALL, CHICAGO, 10 a. m., June 25.—The Sherman tide, which sat in yesterday, flows on this morning and it will reach its flood on the second or third ballot. His friends claim he will get New York and that is the situation in a nut shell.

BENJAMIN F. HARRISON.

A Sherman man who has access to the confidence of the Sherman leaders, shows some figures this morning which foot up 431 votes for the Ohio senator.

Mr. Manley, of Maine, Mr. Blaine's friend, is quoted as saying this morning that Blaine would accept only the unanimous nomination, which at present seems impossible, and that he hopes that there will be no more voting for Blaine.

It is not practicable that the convention will adjourn to-day unless the protracted balloting shows that no result can be reached without further conference and a new deal all around.

The next combination which will be made, should Sherman fail, will be upon Allison and he will get most of Sherman's strength should the Sherman movement fail.

McKinley looks for Sherman's nomination on the third or fourth ballot and will not admit that the movement in his favor has cut any figure in the convention or has any influence upon the result. He comes in the hall with a broad smile and with a look of content upon his face that says he is at peace with his conscience and with the world. He has done his duty, he says, has stood by his friends and acted toward Mr. Sherman as he would desire a friend of his own to act by him.

Governor Foraker, who has been credited with scheming to split the Ohio delegation and take a part to the Blaine people in order to have his name pinned on the tail of the ticket, indignantly denies this and says, as the convention is about to begin its session: "Sherman will hold his Ohio vote to the very end, or as long as the senator remains in the field." He says Sherman will be chosen.

The Convention Proceedings.

At 11:03 a. m. the convention was called to order. The proceedings were opened with prayer by Rev. Arthur Edwards, of Chicago.

The convention meets with the almost absolute certainty that Blaine is entirely out of the race and all the candidates must combine to prevent the impending nomination of Sherman. A resolution was attempted to be offered instructing the convention that no vote for any candidate who is not regularly placed in nomination, shall be counted. It was ruled out of order by Chairman Estee.

Boutelle, of Maine, rose to a question of privilege. He is Blaine's lieutenant. He read two cablegrams. The first was dated Edinburg, June 24, to Boutelle and Manley, at Chicago:

I earnestly request all my friends to respect my Paris letter.
[Signed.] JAMES G. BLAINE.

The second was dated to-day and said:

I think I have a right to ask my friends to respect my wishes and refrain from voting for me. Please make this and former dispatches public.
[Signed.] JAMES G. BLAINE.

FIRST BALLOT TO-DAY.

THE DEMONSTRATIONS.

The result was received with a burst of applause and the great audience arose to its feet and shouted until it had tired itself out. One of the officers of the convention climbed on the chairman's desk and waved a banner bearing the portrait of Harrison. The ladies in the galleries waved handkerchiefs and parasols, hats were thrown up and a scene of enthusiasm followed. Finally, with three cheers for Harrison, the convention became quiet enough to hear the official announcement of the result.

GOVERNOR FORAKER.

Governor Foraker then took the platform amid enthusiastic cheers and said: "Gentlemen of the convention—The delegation from Ohio came here all Sherman men, they are all now Harrison men. [applause] It is easier for us to be so when we remember that General Harrison had the good sense to be born in Ohio. [laughter]. I am directed by the unanimous vote of the Ohio delegation to move the convention, on behalf of the state of Ohio, that the nomination of Mr. Ben Harrison be made unanimous. [Applause].

Mr. Horr, of Michigan, seconded Governor Foraker's motion.

Senator Farwell, on behalf of Illinois, also seconded the motion of Governor Foraker.

Chauncey M. Depew also seconded the nomination and predicted an old time victory for the republicans, for republican principles and for the salvation of the industrial interests of the country.

General Hastings, of Pennsylvania, said that he was also authorized to second the motion. He said he had 100,000 majority for any candidate and it has that and perhaps more for Harrison.

Mr. Henderson, of Iowa, also seconded the motion.

Boutelle, of Maine, gave assurance of the heartiness, cordiality and enthusiasm with which the people of Maine would ratify the nomination of General Benjamin Harrison.

After Boutelle Creed Haymond, of California, spoke, followed by Davis, of Minnesota, Wise and Mahone, of Virginia, and others. A dispatch was read from Alger, thanking the delegates for the support given him and pledging a hearty support to the nominee.

The chairman than put the motion of Governor Foraker, which was accepted and the chairman declared Senator Harrison the unanimous nominee of the convention and of the party for president.

A hundred gun salute is now being fired in honor of Harrison's nomination.

The chairman directed the clerk to call the roll of states for the presentation of names as nominees for the vice-presidency. The clerk proceeded.

When Kentucky was called Mr. Denney, of Kentucky, ascended the platform and declared that the nomination of a southern republican for the vice-presidency would send a thrill of confidence and hope throughout the republicans of that section, who had so long been "the hewers of wood" and "the drawers of water." He placed in nomination Wm. O. Bradley, of Kentucky, and the nomination was seconded by Mr. Griffin, of Kansas; Mr. Warner of Alabama, and Mr. Houk, of Tennessee.

Mr. Houk charged that the south was solid, much because of the neglect of the republican party to look after the republicans in the south.

While the nominating speeches were being made Chairman Estee resigned the gavel to Gen. Hastings, of Pennsylvania.

Mr. Watt, of Georgia, also seconded the nomination of Bradley. Mr. Atkinson, of Michigan, also seconded the nomination.

When New Jersey was called Senator Sewall stated that it was the intention of New Jersey to present the name of Wm. Walter Phelps.

As the members were tired, he moved a recess until 6 o'clock this evening. The motion at 3:05 was agreed to.

HARRISON'S HOME.

How the Presidential Candidate Received the News of His Nomination at Indianapolis.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 25.—When it became apparent that Harrison's nomination was probable the excitement in the streets here became intense. When Tennessee made his nomination certain, tremendous cheers broke forth and the crowds from all the bulleten boards made a frantic rush for Gen. Harrison's law office, in Market street, shouting, waiving hats, umbrellas and canes as they went. In an indescribable short time the broad street was packed with thousands of excited cheering men, many of whom rushed into his office, crowding around him and cheering themselves hoarse.

The halls and rooms were packed and in front of the building there was a mass of people, waiving flags, hats, canes and handkerchiefs. A continuous stream of people passed around the general as he stood in the room. He was entirely cool. Twice he was called to the balcony to bow his acknowledgements. While the cheering continued General Harrison's carriage drove up and some friends accompanied him down the stairs. The crowd fell back and he stepped into his carriage and was driven to his residence amid tremenduous cheering.

LOVE LEADS TO A TRAGEDY.

The Father of a Young Woman Shoots Her Suitor and is Killed in Return.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 25.—A double tragedy occurred here last evening at 6 o'clock. Henry Baker is a farmer, forty-three years old, living north of this city. He has a young and pretty daughter to whom George Long, a young farmer in that vicinity, has been paying his addresses, and the old man has seriously objected to the attachment.

In the evening, Albert, the young woman's brother, met Long, and insisted that he should cease calling upon his sister. The two finally had a fight, with no particular damage to either. Young Baker went home and told his father of the encounter, which so incensed the latter that he immediately hunted up Long. The two met on the highway.

From words they came to blows, and from blows to pistols. Baker disarmed Long, shot him, and when the latter fell started away from the scene. Long staggered up, seized the pistol, and shot Baker through the heart, killing him instantly.

THE Jewish Tidings says the Jews of Germany may expect harsh treatment from the new emperor.

THE SENTINEL is for the Jenney light and the Olds wagon first, last and all the time, but it draws the line on their presidential candidate, Judge Gresham.

COLONEL INGERSOLL punctured the Gresham bubble in his speech the other night and the jurist felt like a fish out of water. Perhaps the Colonel intended it so, who knows?

THE Chicago convention reached the two extremes the other day when Rev. Dr. Gunsaulus opened the proceedings with prayer and Colonel Ingersol pronounced the benediction.

THE COUNTY TICKET.

The ticket nominated by the democrats of Allen county, in representative convention Saturday, is absolutely beyond criticism from a political, personal or business standpoint.

The nominees are all capable, honorable, representative citizens. All of them have held places of trust and discharged every duty with a degree of excellence that solicits confidence and continued public approval.

There is not a weak man on the ticket and individually and collectively the nominees are stronger than their party; they are "strength makers not strength takers" and they will vie with the congressional, state and national nominees in making our friends, the enemy, very lonely and weary of Allen county when November whirls around and the ballots of freemen tell their story.

THE SENTINEL can heartily indorse, support and commend the county ticket, and compliments the convention of Saturday for its wisdom, voice and verdict.

CONVENTION ECHOES.

The ticket is invincible.

Harmony was the paramount issue.

Mr. Barrett made a splendid presiding officer.

It was one of the smoothest and best conventions on record.

Secretary Rockhill sent his voice all over the convention hall.

Mr. W. E. McDermut reported the proceedings for the Journal.

Deputy Sheriff Schroeder lost Marion township, The delegation was solid for Clausmeyer.

Mr. C. M. Dawson made a gallant fight and received a vote that covers him with the honors of friendship.

Hon. Montgomery Hamilton and ex-Treasurer John Dalman are talked of for chairmen of the county central committee. Hon. Charles McCulloch is strongly urged to accept the honor again, but will not say yes.

Mr. Ed Clausmeyer went into the county convention with 62½ votes for sheriff. The contest was creditable to him, and his withdrawal in the interest of harmony and good feeling adds new laurels to his fame.

Mr. O. B. Wiley's defeat is everywhere regretted. Bird is personally popular, but a man is bound to make enemies in the engineer's office in locating ditches, making assessments and such. One cannot satisfy them all, no matter how fair he is.

The Journal puts it this way: "There was a desperate effort made in the convention yesterday to stampede it and defeat Brannan for commissioner. The movement was a cowardly one and its success was prevented only by the promptest action of Mr. Brannan's friends."

Avoid the use of calomel for billious complaints. Ayer's Cathartic Pills, entirely vegetable, have been tested forty years, and are acknowledged to be the best remedy for torpidity of the liver, costiveness, and indigestion.

ECHOES OF THE RAIL.

A Rainy Monday Morning Discloses But Few Items of Interest, But Our Reporter Catches Some of Them.

All the moulding rooms of the Bass foundry were very busy to day.

Next Saturday will be the last working day of the week and the month.

A number of the boys in the shops attended the butchers' barbacue yesterday.

The Pittsburg car shops are now at work upon a new order for two hundred box cars.

The windows of the office of the Pittsburg blacksmith shops are being repaired to-day.

James Noonan, of the blacksmith department of the Bass works, is on the sick list to-day.

J. O. Kensill is still engaged in making a semi-annual inventory of the stock in the Pittsburg shops.

There were twenty-eight men at work upon the street car track to-day engaged in relaying the cobble stone.

Thomas Sheppard, a veteran employe of the Pittsburg boiler shops, is confined to bed at his home on account of sickness.

Ed McCamley, Otto Nichter and Joe Druhot, of the Bass foundry moulding rooms, were delegates to the democratic county convention last Saturday.

Mr. A. S. Work superintendent of engineers on the Nickel Plate, was in the city yesterday the guest of Mr. W. D. Miller, foreman of the round house.

Mr. All Baninster, cashier of the Pittsburg freight house, was taken ill Saturday and had to be taken home in a hack. He was reported better last evening.

Frank Scheid, of the Pittsburg machine shops, has been chosen captain of the Pennsylvania base ball club. The boys will play their first game at Warsaw next Saturday.

W. D. Miller, the foreman of the Nickel Plate round house, was presented with a handsome road cart the other day. The gift came from his brother-in-law, who resides in Pittsburg.

A game of base ball played Saturday afternoon between the regular nine of the Pennsylvania company and a scrub nine picked from the other employes of works, resulted in a score of 25 to 11 in favor of the former.

The gentlemen's passenger room, at the Pittsburg depot, was closed to-day because the painters were busily engaged at work in it. A placard on the door read, "Buy your tickets at the office window in the ladies' passenger room."

A large delegation from Cleveland and eastern Ohio passed through the city last evening on the Pittsburg for Chicago. They were going to the convention for the purpose of shouting for McKinley, one of the dark-horse presidential candidates.

It is thought that the Ives party will now abandon the carrying out of the purchase of the Cincinnati, Wabash and Michigan road, so completely have they been frozen out in the Dayton, Fort Wayne and Chicago and the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton.

The earnings of the Pullman and Wagner Palace Car companies have been the largest, the last thirty days, in their history. The Wagner shows proportionately the larger increase, having fully 100 per cent. more cars in service than at any previous time.

The Chicago convention is the great topic of interest in the shops and cuts off the gathering of much of the personal gossip of the day. Our reporter is tackled and pumped for news in regard to the great republican convention. Being a newspaper man he is supposed to know who will be the nominee.

The machine department of the Bass foundry and machine works completed to-day one of the largest and heaviest steam engines ever built in this city. It is a 500 horse power engine, has a balance wheel that weighs 10,000 pounds and a cylinder with a forty-two by twenty-four inch stroke. It was built for the Indiana manufacturing company, of Peru, Ind., and will be shipped to that place to-morrow.

O. B. Sears, the Pittsburg brakeman who was so badly injured during the first part of last month by being struck by an overhead bridge, near Valpairaso, is now at his home in this city, No. 255 East Lewis street. He has been at the hospital of the Pennsylvania company ever since he received his injuries, but was able to be brought here last week. Although still confined to his room, he is getting along nicely and is glad to meet the friends who call to see him.

William Walters, an engineer on the Lake Erie and Western road, a few weeks ago obtained a leave of absence to visit friends in the northwest, and while absent he was induced to run one of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy engines, but not securing a passenger engine to run he returned to the Lake Erie and Western and resumed his run. The Lafayette division got hold of the facts in the case and demanded that Master Mchanic Riley discharge him, which was done, and the Lafayette division, of the Locomotive Brotherhood, have expelled him from their body.

A Good Appetite

Is essential to good health; but at this season it is often lost, owing to the poverty or impurity of the blood, derangement of the digestive organs, and the weakening effect of the changing season. Hood's Sarsaparilla is a wonderful medicine for creating an appetite, toning the digestion, and giving strength to the whole system. Now is the time to take it. Be sure to get Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Special Meeting.

A special meeting of the City Y. M. C. A. will be held in the rooms this evening at 8 p. m., city time. Business of importance will be transacted and a full attendance of the members is desired.

PLEASURE SEEKERS DROWNED.

A Yacht Capsizes and Five Young Ladies and a Boy Lose Their Lives

NEWARK, N. J., June 25.—A party of sixteen ladies and gentlemen hired the steam yacht Olivette and left this city Saturday night. It being flood tide, the jetty, at the mouth of the bay, was covered with water. The pilot had scarcely his bearings when he heard a sharp grating sound, and realizing that he was on the jetty, stopped the engine. Several of the male passengers jumped over on the jetty, and in doing so the boat lurched and slid off into deep water. The girls then made a rush for the side of the boat. This caused her to keel over suddenly, and in a second she turned bottom side up. The air was immediately filled with screams for help from a score of persons struggling for their lives in the water. Their cries were heard at Greenville and other points on the bay, and rescuers soon went to the scene of the accident. But when the boats arrived it was found that six of the party had been swept away and drowned. The names of the los were: Louis Groff, aged twenty; Gussie Lutz, twenty; Lizzie Celius, fifteen; Minnie Burger, nineteen; Gussie Weber, nineteen; Annie Fricke.

A BAD ONE.

Terrific Railroad Accident and One Man Killed.

Engineer Henry Trask, of this city, was killed.

A fireman named Sweet, also of this place, was seriously, if not fatally, injured, and a lady passenger, whose name is not yet attainable, is seriously injured.

Surprised by Friends.

A very pleasant surprise party was given Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. Fitzpatrick, on East Lewis street, in honor of the thirty-fifth anniversary of Mrs. Fitzpatrick's birthday. The affair was very nicely arranged. During the absence of Mr. and Mrs. Fitzpatrick friends took possession of the house and on their return they were greeted by a half hundred merry voices singing "Home Again."

Mrs. Fitzpatrick was taken completely by surprise, which was greatly increased when she was escorted to the dining room and presented with an elegant and valuable tea set as a present from her husband. Capt. Robert Harrison made the presentation speech, which was responded to in a happy manner, after which the company sat down to an elegant repast that had been prepared for them.

Tony Hart Insane.

WORCESTER, Mass., June 25.—Tony Hart, who, in partnership with Ed Harrington, won a national reputation, was committed to the State Lunatic hospital here on Thursday. Dr. J. S. Park, superintendent of the hospital, says his affection is paresis and incurable. Hart has not been on the stage for over a year.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla operates radically upon the blood, thoroughly cleansing and invigorating it. As a safe and absolute cure for the various disorders caused by constitutional taint or infection, this has no equal. Take it this month.

To-night, June 25,

The colored masons will hold their public installation at their hall on Harrison street and will give a strawberry and ice cream social also. Everybody invited.

Fourth of July Excursion.

How to celebrate the anniversary of the independence of the United States is, at this time, a question in the minds of a great many people, and the Wabash railway anticipating the general desire of the public to go somewhere on this occasion, has reduced its rates to one fare for the round trip to and from all stations on its lines. Tickets will be on sale July 3 and 4, good for return passage until July 5 inclusive.

The Reason Why

Ayer's Pills are so popular is, that while always reliable as a cathartic medicine, they never leave any ill effects. This is because they are purely vegetable, and entirely free from calomel or any other dangerous drug. In all cases, therefore, whether the patient be old or young, they may be confidently administered.

In the Southern and Western States, where derangements of the liver are so general, Ayer's Pills have proved an inestimable blessing. D. W. Baine, New Berne, N. C., writes:

"I suffered a long time with stomach and liver troubles. I tried various remedies, but received no benefit until I commenced taking Ayer's Pills. These pills benefited me at once. I took them regularly for a few months, and my health was completely restored."

Throughout New England, next to lung diseases, Stomach and Bowel Complaints are the most prevalent.

Dyspepsia

and Constipation are almost universal. Mr. Gallacher, a practical chemist, of Roxbury, Mass., who was long troubled with Dyspepsia, writes:

"A friend induced me to try Ayer's Pills, and, after taking one box without much benefit, I was disposed to quit them; but he urged perseverance, and, before I had finished the second box, I began to experience relief. I continued taking them, at intervals, until I had used eleven boxes. Suffice it to say, that I am now a well man, and grateful to your chemistry, which outstrips mine."

The head and stomach are always in sympathy; hence the cause of most of those distressing headaches, to which so many, especially women, are subject. Mrs. Harriet A. Marble, of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., writes that for years she was a martyr to headache, and never found anything to give her more than temporary relief, until she began taking Ayer's Pills, since which she has been in the enjoyment of perfect health.

THE FLIGHT OF THE LOCUSTS.

They Eat Up Every Green Thing and Leave The Earth a Desert.

[English Mechanic.]

An army of locusts is a wonderful and an interesting sight to the traveler who does not own a yard of soil, and is a mere onlooker at their frightful devastation. It is Attila and his innumerable horses rushing over the vegetable world. To-day the wide plains are shining green with dense foliage; tomorrow nothing but brown twigs and bare branches, when the legions move off on their combined mission. As they arrive, the dense, dark clouds moving up from the horizon, and often obscuring the sun's rays, proclaim the approach of the widely dreaded scourge. The alarmed villagers congregate on the expected line of march, beating drums and brass pots, shouting and lighting bonfires and making all kinds of hideous noises. On one occasion, in South Africa, I drove off the enemy from a friend's garden by making four heaps of damp rubbish—one at each corner—in preparation, and then, lighting them at the proper moment, we dispersed the advance guard, our columns of thick smoke being carried by the wind upon the main body, which altered its route. Horses and oxen, their heads and nostrils tormented by the clinging limbs of the swarms, were bolting away to the woods, kicking and plunging in their hasty flight. A hissing, crackling sound arose on all sides, the whole air seemed to be occupied by the falling and flying imps of mischief. The "locust bird" (a kind of crane) hovered in small parties on their flanks, and subsisted on a very small percentage of the insect hosts. In desert localities the hungry pests actually pitched on bones, matting, sticks, etc., and failing in a meal attacked and devoured each other. On another occasion I drove for miles along a sandy tract, the wheels of the vehicle crushing myriads of the newly hatched insects, all crawling and creeping, with migratory instinct, toward the cultivated tracts. In India, locust visits are fewer between, but far more formidable, owing to the overwhelming masses. Sometimes a series of clouds, composed of their flights, cover several miles simultaneously. Fortunately, there are several birds and beasts in quest of their bodies, and I have even seen them salted, dried, and sold in the markets. I have often inspected a dish of curried locust, but could not bring a sufficient amount of curiosity to bear on the tasting experiment, though a prawny odor went up with the steam. The fishes are great devourers of these winged visitors, for they fall into lakes and rivers during changes of wind and weather. Besides fires made of green rubbish at top, I found gunpowder explosions very useful in scaring them away from the vicinity of my garden. When several successful hordes alighted on my grass land I loaded my gun with dust shot, and, stooping low on the ground, discharged the contents of both barrels into their midst. Having done so several times, I enjoyed the welcome sight of seeing them rising into the air and going elsewhere. I have no doubt a small cannon on such occasions, heavily loaded with sharp sand, would hasten their flight.

Bribery in India.

England is trying hard to make its Indian subjects prosperous and to elevate them, but since her first step was taken in the land she has found the nature of the people made the English rulers corrupt. A trial is now going on in Lahore which shows that it is hard even for English civil-service examiners to escape the temptation for taking bribes. It would be amusing to read the testimony of candidates for a higher grade of lawyers if it were not painful. Amusing because of the simplicity of the people in taking it for granted that nothing can be had except for pay, and the ease with which they invite themselves into traps. The climate seems to have acted on the people as it does upon their wooden furniture and doors. If one twists in a chair he breaks it down. If he moves a table he is liable to have it drop into pieces, and I have not seen a door in the land that fits as it was made. In the rainy season everything takes water as a sponge, and in the dry months it shrinks like a cake of country-made soap. It acts in like manner upon the moral nature of the flexible people.—Carter H. Harrison's letter from India.

In the "Society Column."

Young husband—Clara, my dear, I wish that in sending in notices of your luncheons to the Sunday papers you would not speak of yourself as Mrs. Henry Hustler, nee Van der Pœl. I don't like it. Her husband's name should be sufficient for a wife.

Young wife (meekly)—Well, Harry, how shall I put it?

"Oh, say 'Mrs. Henry Hustler, wife of that enterprising and successful real estate man, Henry Hustler, whose beautiful residence addition is now upon the market.'"—Kansas City Times.

Ozone as a Germicide.

In some experiments with ozone as a curative agent, an English lady, so far advanced in consumption that her case appeared hopeless, has been treated with inhalation of this gas, with results described as marvelous. After a month's treatment, the appetite was regained, the sleep calm and refreshing, and there was a very good prospect of recovery. The ozone was prepared by passing a stream of oxygen through the current of an induction coil, and was administered with atmospheric air in the proportion of one in five. The experimenter has reached the conclusion that the ozone treatment is especially applicable to all germ diseases.—Arkansaw Traveler.

JOHN BURROUGHS, whose great familiarity with plant and animal life is apparent in his popular magazine writings, says that the best remedy for ivy or sumac poisoning is the frequent application of hot water, as hot as it can be borne.

MAGNOLIA

BALM—HAGAN'S MAGNOLIA BALM is not a Paint, Powder or Rouge, but a Refreshing Liquid!

The Royal Dead of Spain.

All the dead kings of Spain are gathered beneath one roof. Whatever revolutions may have shaken the throne, it never occurred to the wildest fanatic to disturb the royal dead. For one thing they lay far away from the capital. The palace of the Escurial stands in the heart of a large and dreary plain. In the heart of the monster palace rises the dome of a spacious church, and beneath the center of this again, deep down in the bowels of the earth, we find the gloomy death-chamber devised by Philip of Spain. Philip II., bigot and ascetic, for months lay dying of a loathsome disease in a den not much larger than a railway carriage. No light could enter, save from a small opening into the church, whence, from his bed, he could look upon the altar and the golden monument of his father kneeling with all his wives and children, a curious life-size group, in a recess like the royal box at a theater on its further side. Here, in semi-darkness, lay the king, meditating on death and (while mortifying his body with ostentatious humility) framing those extensive regulations which were to be observed with regard to the royal sepulcher. None other than the actual monarchs of Spain were to have place within those walls. No queen consort, however beloved, might lie there beside her lord (unless, indeed, she should have been so highly favored as to have given birth to a king). All other queens, princes, and royalties whatsoever were laid in the "pudridero" (literally, decaying place). A long, dark, precipitous stairway leads down to the vault of kings. The flash of our descending torches showed that the walls were of costly marble, but no ray of wholesome daylight ever could reach that gruesome place. No lamp was there to lighten but a little the sense of deathlike gloom. Each wall of the octagonal chamber was deeply recessed, and fitted like a bookcase, except that the shelves were further apart, and also of marble. Each shelf supported a heavy sarcophagus of the florid tea caddy order—all black and all exactly alike, except as regards the pompous incriptions, which, in the darkness were difficult to decipher. Thus on all sides from the floor to the roof the vault was lined with kings. But few of the sarcophagi remained unoccupied, and when these are filled, says a Spanish tradition, the monarchy will come to an end. Ferdinand and Isabella, the founders of that monarchy, lie buried in fair Granada, and fitly so, since the conquest of that city (the last stronghold of the detested Moor) had been for many and many a year the chief aim and object of their lives. Their monuments are among the most beautiful we ever remembered to have seen. Raised somewhat aloft, each on a couch of fair white marble adorned with exquisite sculpture, they lie side by side, two noble recumbent figures. In a small vault made easily accessible by a few decending steps, their bodies repose beneath in coffins of plain grey stone, as simple as their monuments are superb. No pompous inscription here; no, not so much as a name. A tiny f on the one coffin, scratched, rather than engraved, on the stone, and a tiny y (for Ysabel) on the other; these alone serve to mark the distinction between the illustrious pair.

THERE will be no bareback riding in any American circus this year if Anthony Comstock knows himself.

Beware of Scrofula

Scrofula is probably more general than any other disease. It is insidious in character, and manifests itself in running sores, pustular eruptions, boils, swellings, enlarged joints, abscesses, sore eyes, etc. Hood's Sarsaparilla expels all trace of scrofula from the blood, leaving it pure, enriched, and healthy.

"I was severely afflicted with scrofula, and over a year had two running sores on my neck. Took five bottles Hood's Sarsaparilla, and am cured." C. E. LOVEJOY, Lowell, Mass.

C. A. Arnold, Arnold, Me., had scrofulous sores for seven years, spring and fall. Hood's Sarsaparilla cured him.

Salt Rheum

Is one of the most disagreeable diseases caused by impure blood. It is readily cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier.

William Spies, Elyria, O., suffered greatly from erysipelas and salt rheum, caused by handling tobacco. At times his hands would crack open and bleed. He tried various preparations without aid; finally took Hood's Sarsaparilla, and now says: "I am entirely well."

"My son had salt rheum on his hands and on the calves of his legs. He tood Hood's Sarsaparilla and is entirely cured." J. B. Stanton, Mt. Vernon, Ohio.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

Do not be induced to take some other preparation when you call for Hood's Sarsaparilla. Be sure to get Hood's which is peculiar.

Advice to Mothers.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. mar-17-1y

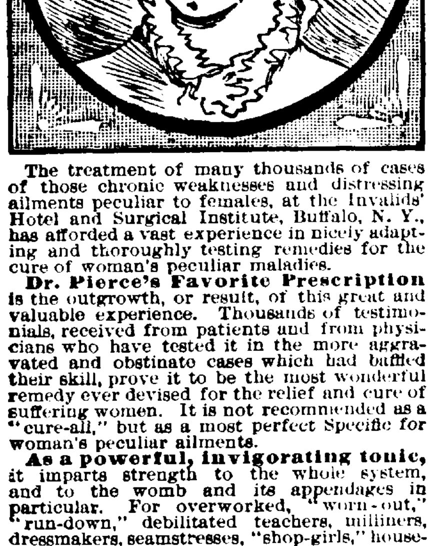
SCORES OF DEMOCRATS



The treatment of many thousands of cases of those chronic weaknesses and distressing ailments peculiar to females, at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., has afforded a vast experience in nicely adapting and thoroughly testing remedies for the cure of woman's peculiar maladies.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the outgrowth, or result, of this great and valuable experience. Thousands of testimonials, received from patients and from physicians who have tested it in the more aggravated and obstinate cases which had baffled their skill, prove it to be the most wonderful remedy ever devised for the relief and cure of suffering women. It is not recommended as a "cure-all," but as a most perfect Specific for woman's peculiar ailments.

As a powerful, invigorating tonic, it imparts strength to the whole system, and to the womb and its appendages in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," housekeepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nervine, "Favorite Prescription" is unequaled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, exhaustion, prostration, hysteria, spasms and other distressing, nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the womb. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a legitimate medicine, carefully compounded by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate organization. It is purely vegetable in its composition and perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the system. For morning sickness, or nausea, from whatever cause arising, weak stomach, indigestion, dyspepsia and kindred symptoms, its use, in small doses, will prove very beneficial.

"Favorite Prescription" is a positive cure for the most complicated and obstinate cases of leucorrhea, excessive flowing, painful menstruation, unnatural suppressions, prolapsus, or falling of the womb, weak back, "female weakness," anteversion, retroversion, bearing-down sensations, chronic congestion, inflammation and ulceration of the womb, inflammation, pain and tenderness in ovaries, accompanied with "internal heat."

As a regulator and promoter of functional action, at that critical period of change from girlhood to womanhood, "Favorite Prescription" is a perfectly safe remedial agent, and can produce only good results. It is equally efficacious and valuable in its effects when taken for those disorders and derangements incident to that later and most critical period, known as "The Change of Life."

"Favorite Prescription," when taken in connection with the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and small laxative doses of Dr. Pierce's Purgative Pellets (Little Liver Pills), cures Liver, Kidney and Bladder diseases. Their combined use also removes blood taints, and abolishes cancerous and scrofulous humors from the system.

"Favorite Prescription" is the only medicine for women, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee, from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money will be refunded. This guarantee has been printed on the bottle-wrapper, and faithfully carried out for many years.

Large bottles (100 doses) $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00.

MAGNOLIA

Don't rub the dirt out of your clothes because your ancestors did. Keep up with the times. Try modern ideas for saving labor. James Pyle's PEARLINE leads all of those which pertain to cleanliness.

What is it that frays your collars, cuffs and skirts and pulls off the buttons and strings? What is it that ruins your paint? It's the old-fashioned way of rub, rub, rub, to make clean. PEARLINE does away with most of the rubbing, so it saves the worst of the wear.

You don't want an imitation, do you? Beware of them. PEARLINE is manufactured only by James Pyle, New York, notwithstanding the plausible stories told by peddlers and some grocers to the contrary.

GRATEFUL—COMFORTING.

EPPS'S COCOA

BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.

Made simply with boiling water or milk. Sold only in half pound tins by grocers, labeled thus:

LOCAL NEWS.

Farmers are harvesting hay between showers.

The S. S. club picnicked in the country yesterday.

Mr. Lew Ogden, of Bluffton, spent Sunday in the city.

Henry Neuhaus now drives a trotter and is gayer than anybody.

Mr. and Mrs. John Koch will take a pleasure trip through Michigan this week.

Councilman Williams and Mr. W. P. Breen returned from Chicago Saturday night.

Allen Baxter has sold to Elizabeth Baxter, lot 20, Ninde's second addition, for $2,000.

Miss Mollie Cross, of Lima, Ohio, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Cross, of 178 Ewing street.

Miss Emma Smith and Miss Fannie Humphreys are spending the summer at Bismarck, Dakota.

Rev. J. M. Fulton delivered a masterly sermon yesterday morning upon the subject "The Child Model."

Charles Pliett has been given a permit to build a one story frame house on lot 9, Hanna's addition, to cost $700.

Supt. McNutt has a force of men repairing the cobble stone between the street railway tracks on Calhoun street.

Mrs. Geo. Kennard, who has been visiting Mrs. Sam Henderson, returned to her home at Champaign, Ill., last night.

A farmer's team ran away this morning, on West Columbia street, and smashed the buggy in a pretty bad manner.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin App returned from their wedding trip yesterday and have taken pleasant apartments on East Wayne street.

Miss Annie Kamm, who has been the guest of Miss Carrie Ervin three weeks, left for her home at Grand Crossing, Ill., Saturday evening.

The Butchers' barbecue at the Centlivre park yesterday was a success and the crowd was royally wined and dined. They call it a "sacred barbecue."

Mr. Martin C. Baade, who is attending the theological college at St. Louis, Mo., will return home this week to spend the summer vacation in this city.

Capt. and Mrs. F. H. Barnard are taking a two week's trip up through the northern lakes and will visit Millwaukee, St. Paul, Duluth and Chicago before their return.

The trains from Chicago yesterday were crowded with returning statesmen. They are tired, weary and disappointed but incline to the belief that Blaine will be the nominee.

The Indiana Music Teacher's association convenes at Indianapolis to-night. A feature on the program is a discussion by W. F. Heath, of Fort Wayne, and Sam Williams, of Winchester.

The sixth of the series of special sermons to the young men, which Rev. Northrop is delivering, attracted a large audience to the First Baptist church last night. The subject, "The Bank Book or Some Stepping Stones to Success" was ably handled and proved very interesting and instructive.

The "Gresham" streamer no longer floats from the Jenney electric light works. Like the boom it succumbed to time and the weather. The Gresham hanger on the Olds wagon works has twisted itself out of shape and lies peacefully on the roof. There is not so much solidity for Gresham as there was.

Rev. D. C. Woolpert led the afternoon meeting at the Y. M. C. A. rooms yesterday. Instead of the usual talk he had a sort of Methodist experience meeting and a number of members delivered short and interesting speeches of that character. The meeting was one of the most profitable the association has held for a long time.

Mr. C. A. Brown, one of the engineers on the New York, Mahoning and Western road, is in the city. He says the suits against the company grew out of the disposition of the South Chicago Rolling Mill company to deliver the man material then necessary and the consequent refusal of the railroad to pay out any money. "The suits are now all settled and we will have our track laid into Findlay by next Saturday," said Mr. Brown.

There are 180 saloons in the city now—a gain of fifty in the last year.

Conductor A. G. Estry visited County Clerk Glenn, at Huntington yesterday.

Chief Diehl drove the patrol wagon Saturday night as Geo. Swain was not duty.

Dr. Bowen went to Niagra Falls today to attend the American Institute of Homeopathy.

Mrs. Frank Lightfoot, of West Berry street, is happily recovering from a severe illness.

Mr. R. T. McDonald was in the city yesterday. He still insists that Gresham will be nominated.

A promenade concert and strawberry festival will be inaugurated at Library hall to-morrow night.

The school trustees are drawing their portion of the school money from County Treasurer Mowrer.

Mrs. A. D. Guild and Mrs. M. W. Grumell are spending a few weeks at the lake side in Michigan.

James Tart, Joe Didier, Ottis Bucklin and Wm. Johnson were before the mayor this morning for drunkenness.

Miss Ella Simplott, of Dubuque, Iowa, who has been visiting Miss Addie Davis, returned to her home this morning.

The city council will meet to-morrow night in regular session. The finance committee audited the bills this afternoon.

Frank Higbee, the tough bootblack and two women were fined for indulging in a lark at the Apple Orchard Saturday night.

Dr. Shyrock left to day to attend the meeting of the State Dental association which is in session this week at Terre Haute.

Mr. Frank J. Woulfe, one of the brightest clerks in Col. C. A. Zollinger's office at Indianapolis, was the guest of his parents over Sunday.

Mr. August Lordier this morning received a telegram announcing the death of his aged mother at Portsmouth, Ohio. Mrs. Lordier was seventy-seven years of age.

Miss Eursia Bowers and Miss Annie Drake, two charming young ladies from Kendallville, are the guests of Mrs. C. A. Rekers, jr., of West Washington street.

Supt. McNutt, of the street railway, has put on all night cars on the Calhoun street line and finds that it pays. The lines are all paying under his management, and ought to.

The Business Men's exchange will meet this evening at 7:30 o'clock to investigate the report published in the papers concerning the insolvency of the New York, Mahoning and Western railroad.

The ladies' auxilliary of the railroad department of the Y. M. C. A. will hold a special meeting Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, city time, at the parlors of the department building. A full attendance is desired.

The cottage meeting of the railroad department of the Y. M. C. A. will be held at the home of Mr. Amos Sine, Webster street, near Dawson, Tuesday evening at 7:30, standard time. Everybody invited.

The Monroeville Breeze says: "Miss Connie Heller, of Fort Wayne, who has been visiting at the residence of Mr. J. B. Niezer for the past week, returned home yesterday, accompanied by Miss Lue Niezer."

The preliminary steps are being taken in New York this week looking to a consolidation of the Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana divisions of the new road under the name of the United States Central Railroad company.

Hon. R. C. Bell made a tour of the district last week and was received with great favor everywhere. Mr. Bell is making an honest, manly canvass and is regarded as the strongest man in the congressional race.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Hoffman and daughter are visiting relatives in Virginia. Next week they will leave for New York, where they will sail for Liverpool, to spend the summer traveling through Europe.

Andrew J. Cottingham, who has been in business on Calhoun street for some weeks past, dissolved partnership Saturday night last and proceeded to celebrate the event. He fell into Officer Fuchschuber's arms and was fined for drunkenness.

The Fort Wayne base ball club is at home for a two weeks' lay off, occasioned by the withdrawal of the Lafayette and Frankfort nines from the league. Next Wednesday they will play the Fort Browns at the Fair grounds. It is to be a benefit game.

J. H. Jackson, a Scipio township farmer, was thrown from his wagon on Spy Run avenue, near the St. Joe bridge last evening. His team was frightened by the barbecue fiends and threw Mr. Jackson headforemost to the ground. It was thought for a time that his neck was broken.

The Chicago Herald says that M. W. Simons voted against Gen. Harrison because his brother, the late O. A. Simons, did not get the postmastership. In Fort Wayne publications like these are harmless and fall on deaf ears, but abroad they lead men to believe that there is some truth in them.

The Monroeville Breeze says: "An accident, that might have been fatal, occurred to our citizen, Mr. M. E. Agro, on Thursday morning. In attempting to lead one of his Durham bulls he was thrown against a gatepost, the bull pinioned Mr. Argo's hand to the post, goring and tearing it frightfully. Dr. Connoly dressed the wound."

Mr. James Wilkinson, the deputy federal marshal, has instituded suit through his attorney, J. B. Harper, United States commissioner, against the deputy United States marshal at St. Louis for damages. Mr. Wilkinson claims that the marshal at St. Louis unlawfully retained a box containing 1,000 pounds of opium, worth over $20,000 on which he claims that he was entitled to a commission of $11,000.

An infant child of Leonard Yokel was buried to-day.

The Academy of Music closed for the season Saturday.

Mrs. M. A. Merriweather has been ill at Jeffersonville.

Col. C. A. Zollinger, is rusticating at West Baden springs.

The funeral of Mrs. Chas. Hans was largely attended yesterday.

Frank X. Didier and Mary J. Roussay have been licensed to wed.

Capt. and Mrs. F. H. Barnard are making a tour of the northwest.

Chairman Will Wilson is at home from Chicago, He is still for Gresham.

Dr. Shryock is attending the Indiana State Dental association at Terre Haute.

D. F. French, of No. 2 Center street, died of dropsy Saturday and was buried yesterday.

Dr. Harry Gould and Frank Read have gone to Medicine Lodge, Kansas, to locate.

Jacob Parker and Perry Snurr have been discharged from the state insane asylum as incurable.

Laura Krocket was arrested to-day for assault on Eliza Lyon. Justice France has the case.

Mrs. Chas. Doudrick died yesterday in child birth. This family has had its share of misfortune. Some months ago Mr. Doudrick lost both his lower limbs and next their child died. Mrs. Doudrick will be buried to-morrow from the Cathedral.

THE NEW ROAD.

The Quarrel Between it and the Rolling Mill Company.

The dispute between the New York, Mahoning and Western railroad will probably be adjusted in New York tomorrow, by President Norvin Green. The company claims that the Chicago rolling mill delivered five times as many fish plates as the contract called for and the suit brought was for the purpose of forcing their acceptance. The amount due the mill company has been tendered and unless accepted the rights of the parties will have to be determined by litigation.

In the meantime Messrs. Silsby and Huss, contractors, have 1,000 men at work east from North Adams to twenty miles east from Findlay, and are laying one and one half miles of track per day. This firm of contractors is one of the largest and wealthiest in the United States and have no fear as to the solvency of the New York, Mahoning and western railroad company.

A DEADLY DUEL.

Two Alabamians Fight a Duel and Both are Killed.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., June 25.—Melville A. Miles, a young white man, and a negro named Wash Harralson, fought with pistols yesterday near Richmond, Ala. Both were killed. Miles is an overseer and Harralson a laborer.

Two Men Killed by an Explosion.

ALTAMONT, Ind., June 25.—Saturday about 5 o'clock, a saw-mill situated about ten miles north of this city was blown into splinters by the explosion of one of the boilers. The cause is supposed to have been insufficiency of water in the boiler. Two of the laborers were instantly killed and others seriously if not fatally injured. The men killed were Samuel King and Daniel Logue, both leaving families in almost destitute circumstances. The loss of property is $1,000.

Superior Court.

Before Hon. A. A. Chapin:

Dr. A. J. Laubach, administrator, vs. H. M. Diehl judgment for plaintiff for $139.75.

P. M. Howe vs. Josiah Tilton judgment for plaintiff for $107.49.

Stringer vs. Weir, judgment for $500 on a former verdict.

EMPEROR WILLIAM!

Opens the Reichstag With Pomp and Brilliancy—He Wants Peace With All Nations.

BERLIN, June 25.—The reichstag was opened to-day with pomp and brilliancy. The emperor was escorted with great ceremony to the white hall of the old castle where he declared the session open. Throughout his speech the emperor dwelt upon Germany's pacific disposition. He says her policy aims only to ward off attacks, not to acquire military glory. The empire, he declares, desires peace with all nations.

HARRISON'S NOMINATION.

It is Deposited Like an Arctic Wave on the Local Republicans.

If a midwinter gale swept over the city to-day it could hardly have chilled the republicans as did the news of General Harrison's nomination at Chicago.

There was an exceedingly strong Gresham element in this community and the struggle between the chieftains imbittered their friends to an irreconcilable degree.

The news of Harrison's nomination was received in silence. There were more tears than cheers and on every corner republicans gathered in knots to condemn the work.

Rev. D. C. Woolpert said to Dr. Stemen, "Mr. Harrison's nomination is a mistake."

Chairman Will Wilson, Andy Purman, Reader Smith and a party of demonstrative republicans were bemoaning their fate at the depot when THE SENTINEL man approached. "How do you like the nomination," was put at them.

"Can't you hear us cheer," said Mr. Wilson with all the sarcasm he could inject into the expression and then the little circle proceeded to discuss the ways and means of doing Carr and Michener up.

A prominent republican merchant, who requests that his name be omitted for business reasons, said: "Harrison is not a great man. He is very ordinary and has no qualifications for the presidency to commend him above Cleveland. His nomination means defeat for no man will run the chance of unsettling the business of the country for such a man as he is."

"Its only a question of how large the democratic majority will be," said a republican lawyer, and so runs the sentiment.

All over the city republicans look on the nomination coldy and it is not extravagant to put Allen county down for 5,000 democratic majority.

The Lick Observatory Clocks.

The Lick Observatory has five standard clocks by the best makers in the world. They are all bolted to heavy brick piers, which pass up through the floor of a room specially constructed for the purpose, with double doors, windows, and walls throughout. The piers are built on the solid rock of the mountain, and are entirely disconnected from the building, so that no jar can be communicated to the clocks. The double walls of the room effectually guard against sudden changes of temperature. Five chronometers are also kept here, two of which are regularly used in connection with the time service. In some observatories the clock-room is situated deep under ground, and the clocks are even sealed up in air-tight cases, but the equable climate of California renders this unnecessary on Mt. Hamilton. Four of the observatory clocks keep sidereal time, and are allowed to run without regulation, their errors being allowed for; the fifth is the standard mean time clock, and is constantly adjusted, so as to be as nearly right as possible every day at noon, when time signals are transmitted to the railroads. This is effected by means of small weights of different sizes. The one most used makes the clock gain a tenth of a second per hour when placed on top of the pendulum, and makes it lose the same amount when placed on a little shelf at the bottom. It weighs 78.1 grains. The clock is compared with one of the sidereal clocks and two chronometers over day a little before 9 o'clock in the morning, and thus its error is determined. Then the weight is applied, so as to correct the error before noon. If, for instance, the clock should be found two-tenths of a second slow, the weight would be put on top of the pendulum and removed at the end of two hours, when the clock would be just right. The pendulum is of itself so nearly in adjustment that the clock will run a day without getting more than the tenth of a second out, and it is hardly ever necessary to correct an error of as much as two-tenths of a second. The rule which has been adopted is to always have the clock within a tenth of a second at noon. Another comparison with the two chronometers immediately after the noon signals are sent gives the precise amount of error of the latter. The errors of the sidereal clocks are determined by observation three times a week. There are other methods of regulating a clock without disturbing its pendulum, but probably none are simpler and better than this.

Criticising the Critic.

That Mr. Howells should laud Tolstoi's work so extravagantly is not natural, or natural only on the supposition that his critical opinions are the hasty impulses of his heart and not the deliberate convictions of his head. If we may say so without offense—for no offense is intended—Mr. Howells seems to have lost his head about Tolstoi, Turgenief and other Russian novelists, as he lost his head about Thackeray, Dickens, Scott, and other English novelists. He has done Tolstoi more harm than good; for nothing so harms a man, even a great man, as to praise him for his worst qualities. It is, we fear, an American habit, but one which has hitherto exercised itself in the making of political and military reputations and not in making of great letters. Politicians and soldiers are creatures of circumstances; authors who are worthy of the name—poets, dramatists, historians, novelists—are the creatures of nothing, but the creators of all that is most human and beautiful and permanent in the world of thought. "Glory be with them, and eternal praise."—R. H. Stoddard.

IT'S HARRISON!

The Nomination of a Candidate for Vice President Next in Order.

CONVENTION HALL, CHICAGO, 10 a. m., June 25.—The Sherman tide, which set in yesterday, flows on this morning and it will reach its flood on the second or third ballot. His friends claim he will get New York and that is the situation in a nut shell.

BENJAMIN F. HARRISON.

A Sherman man who has access to the confidence of the Sherman leaders, shows some figures this morning which foot up 451 votes for the Ohio senator.

Mr. Manley, of Maine, Mr. Blaine's friend, is quoted as saying this morning that Blaine would accept only the unanimous nomination, which at present seems impossible, and that he hopes that there will be no more voting for Blaine.

It is not practicable that the convention will adjourn to-day unless the protracted balloting shows that no result can be reached without further conference and a new deal all around.

The next combination which will be made, should Sherman fail, will be upon Allison and he will get most of Sherman's strength should the Sherman movement fail.

McKinley looks for Sherman's nomination on the third or fourth ballot and will not admit that the movement in his favor has cut any figure in the convention or has any influence upon the result. He comes in the hall with a broad smile and with a look of content upon his face that says he is at peace with his conscience and with the world. He has done his duty, he says, has stood by his friends and acted toward Mr. Sherman as he would desire a friend of his own to act by him.

Governor Foraker, who has been credited with scheming to split the Ohio delegation and take a part to the Blaine people in order to have his name pinned on the tail of the ticket, indignantly denies this and says, as the convention is about to begin its session: "Sherman will hold his Ohio vote to the very end, or as long as the senator remains in the field." He says Sherman will be chosen.

The Convention Proceedings.

At 11:05 a. m. the convention was called to order. The proceedings were opened with prayer by Rev. Arthur Edwards, of Chicago.

The convention meets with the almost absolute certainty that Blaine is entirely out of the race and all the candidates must combine to prevent the impending nomination of Sherman. A resolution was attempted to be offered instructing the convention that no vote for any candidate who is not regularly placed in nomination, shall be counted. It was ruled out of order by Chairman Estee.

Boutelle, of Maine, rose to a question of privilege. He is Blaine's lieutenant. He read two cablegrams. The first was dated Edinburg, June 24, to Boutelle and Manley, at Chicago:

I earnestly request all my friends to respect my Paris letter.

[Signed.] JAMES G. BLAINE.

The second was dated to-day and said:

I think I have a right to ask my friends to respect my wishes and refrain from voting for me. Please make this and former dispatches public.

[Signed.] JAMES G. BLAINE.

FIRST BALLOT TO-DAY.

The sixth ballot which was a continuation of the five already ballots taken was then proceeded with as follows:

THE DEMONSTRATIONS.

The result was received with a burst of applause and the great audience arose to its feet and shouted until it had tired itself out. One of the officers of the convention climbed on the chairman's desk and waved a banner bearing the portrait of Harrison. The ladies in the galleries waved handkerchiefs and parasols, hats were thrown up and a scene of enthusiasm followed. Finally, with three cheers for Harrison, the convention became quiet enough to hear the official announcement of the result.

GOVERNOR FORAKER.

Governor Foraker then took the platform amid enthusiastic cheers and said: "Gentlemen of the convention—The delegation from Ohio came here all Sherman men, they are all now Harrison men. [applause] It is easier for us to be so when we remember that General Harrison had the good sense to be born in Ohio. [laughter]. I am directed by the unanimous vote of the Ohio delegation to move the convention, on behalf of the state of Ohio, that the nomination of Mr. Ben Harrison be made unanimous. [Applause].

Mr. Horr, of Michigan, seconded Governor Foraker's motion.

Senator Farwell, on behalf of Illinois, also seconded the motion of Governor Foraker.

Chauncey M. Depew also seconded the nomination and predicted an old time victory for the republicans, for republican principles and for the salvation of the industrial interests of the country.

General Hastings, of Pennsylvania, said that he was also authorized to second the motion. He said he had 100,000 majority for any candidate and it has that and perhaps more for Harrison.

Mr. Henderson, of Iowa, also seconded the motion.

Boutelle, of Maine, gave assurance of the heartiness, cordiality and enthusiasm with which the people of Maine would ratify the nomination of General Benjamin Harrison.

After Boutelle Creed Haymond, of California, spoke, followed by Davis, of Minnesota, Wise and Mahone, of Virginia, and others. A dispatch was read from Alger, thanking the delegates for the support given him and pledging a hearty support to the nominee.

The chairman then put the motion of Governor Foraker, which was accepted and the chairman declared Senator Harrison the unanimous nominee of the convention and of the party for president.

A hundred gun salute is now being fired in honor of Harrison's nomination.

The chairman directed the clerk to call the roll of states for the presentation of names as nominees for the vice-presidency. The clerk proceeded.

When Kentucky was called Mr. Denney, of Kentucky, seconded the platform and declared that the nomination of a southern republican for the vice-presidency would send a thrill of confidence and hope throughout the republicans of that section, who had so long been "the hewers of wood" and "the drawers of water." He placed in nomination Wm. O. Bradley, of Kentucky, and the nomination was seconded by Mr. Griffin, of Kansas; Mr. Warner of Alabama, and Mr. Houk, of Tennessee.

Mr. Houk charged that the south was solid, much because of the neglect of the republican party to look after the republicans in the south.

While the nominating speeches were being made Chairman Estee resigned the gavel to Gen. Hastings, of Pennsylvania.

Mr. Watt, of Georgia, also seconded the nomination of Bradley. Mr. Atkinson, of Michigan, also seconded the nomination.

When New Jersey was called Senator Sewell stated that it was the intention of New Jersey to present the name of Wm. Walter Phelps.

As the members were tired, he moved a recess until 6 o'clock this evening. The motion at 3:05 was agreed to.

HARRISON'S HOME.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 25.—When it became apparent that Harrison's nomination was probable the excitement in the streets here became intense. When Tennessee made his nomination certain, tremendous cheers broke forth and the crowds from all the bulletin boards made a frantic rush for Gen. Harrison's law office, in Market street, shouting, waiving hats, umbrellas and canes as they went. In an indescribable short time the broad street was packed with thousands of excited cheering men, many of whom rushed into his office, crowding around him and cheering themselves hoarse.

The halls and rooms were packed and in front of the building there was a mass of people, waiving flags, hats, canes and handkerchiefs. A continuous stream of people passed around the general as he stood in the room. He was entirely cool. Twice he was called to the balcony to bow his acknowledgements. While the cheering continued General Harrison's carriage drove up and some friends accompanied him down the stairs. The crowd fell back and he stepped into his carriage and was driven to his residence amid tremendous cheering.

LOVE LEADS TO A TRAGEDY.

The Father of a Young Woman Shoots Her Suitor and is Killed in Return.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 25.—A double tragedy occurred here last evening at 6 o'clock. Henry Baker is a farmer, forty-three years old, living north of this city. He has a young and pretty daughter to whom George Long, a young farmer in that vicinity, has been paying his addresses, and the old man has seriously objected to the attachment.

In the evening, Albert, the young woman's brother, met Long, and insisted that he should cease calling upon his sister. The two finally had a fight, with no particular damage to either. Young Baker went home and told his father of the encounter, which so incensed the latter that he immediately hunted up Long. The two met on the highway.

From words they came to blows, and from blows to pistols. Baker disarmed Long, shot him, and when the latter fell started away from the scene. Long staggered up, seized the pistol, and shot Baker through the heart, killing him instantly.

THE Jewish Tidings says the Jews of Germany may expect harsh treatment from the new emperor.

THE SENTINEL is for the Jenney light and the Olds wagon first, last and all the time, but it draws the line on their presidential candidate, Judge Gresham.

COLONEL INGERSOLL punctured the Gresham bubble in his speech the other night and the jurist felt like a fish out of water. Perhaps the Colonel intended it so, who knows?

THE Chicago convention reached the two extremes the other day when Rev. Dr. Gunsaulus opened the proceedings with prayer and Colonel Ingersol pronounced the benediction.

THE COUNTY TICKET.

The ticket nominated by the democrats of Allen county, in representative convention Saturday, is absolutely beyond criticism from a political, personal or business standpoint.

The nominees are all capable, honorable, representative citizens. All of them have held places of trust and discharged every duty with a degree of excellence that solicits confidence and continued public approval.

There is not a weak man on the ticket and individually and collectively the nominees are stronger than their party; they are "strength makers not strength takers" and they will vie with the congressional, state and national nominees in making our friends, the enemy, very lonely and weary of Allen county when November whirls around and the ballots of freemen tell their story.

THE SENTINEL can heartily indorse, support and commend the county ticket, and compliments the convention of Saturday for its wisdom, voice and verdict.

CONVENTION ECHOES.

The ticket is invincible.

Harmony was the paramount issue.

Mr. Barrett made a splendid presiding officer.

It was one of the smoothest and best conventions on record.

Secretary Rockhill sent his voice all over the convention hall.

Mr. W. E. McDermut reported the proceedings for the Journal.

Deputy Sheriff Schroeder lost Marion township. The delegation was solid for Clausmeyer.

Mr. C. M. Dawson made a gallant fight and received a vote that covers him with the honors of friendship.

Hon. Montgomery Hamilton and ex-Treasurer John Dalman are talked of for chairmen of the county central committee. Hon. Charles McCulloch is strongly urged to accept the honor again, but will not say yes.

Mr. Ed Clausmeyer went into the county convention with 62½ votes for sheriff. The contest was creditable to him, and his withdrawal in the interest of harmony and good feeling adds new laurels to his fame.

Mr. O. B. Wiley's defeat is everywhere regretted. Bird is personally popular, but a man is bound to make enemies in the engineer's office in locating ditches, making assessments and such. One cannot satisfy them all, no matter how fair he is.

The Journal puts it this way: "There was a desperate effort made in the convention yesterday to stampede it and defeat Brannan for commissioner. The movement was a cowardly one and its success was prevented only by the promptest action of Mr. Brannan's friends."

Avoid the use of calomel for bilious complaints. Ayer's Cathartic Pills, entirely vegetable, have been tested forty years, and are acknowledged to be the best remedy for torpidity of the liver, costiveness, and indigestion.

ECHOES OF THE RAIL.

A Rainy Monday Morning Discloses But Few Items of Interest, But Our Reporter Catches Some of Them.

All the moulding rooms of the Bass foundry were very busy to day.

Next Saturday will be the last working day of the week and the month.

A number of the boys in the shops attended the butchers' barbecue yesterday.

The Pittsburg car shops are now at work upon a new order for two hundred box cars.

The windows of the office of the Pittsburg blacksmith shops are being repaired to-day.

James Noonan, of the blacksmith department of the Bass works, is on the sick list to-day.

J. C. Kensill is still engaged in making a semi-annual inventory of the stock in the Pittsburg shops.

There were twenty-eight men at work upon the street car track to-day engaged in relaying the cobble stone.

Thomas Sheppard, a veteran employe of the Pittsburg boiler shops, is confined to bed at his home on account of sickness.

Ed McCamley, Otto Nichter and Joe Druhot, of the Bass foundry moulding rooms, were delegates to the democratic county convention last Saturday.

Mr. A. S. Work superintendent of engineers on the Nickel Plate, was in the city yesterday the guest of Mr. W. D. Miller, foreman of the round house.

Mr. All Banister, cashier of the Pittsburg freight house, was taken ill Saturday and had to be taken home in a hack. He was reported better last evening.

Frank Scheid, of the Pittsburg machine shops, has been chosen captain of the Pennsylvania base ball club. The boys will play their first game at Warsaw next Saturday.

W. D. Miller, the foreman of the Nickel Plate round house, was presented with a handsome road cart the other day. The gift came from his brother-in-law, who resides in Pittsburg.

A game of base ball played Saturday afternoon between the regular nine of the Pennsylvania company and a scrub nine picked from the other employes of works, resulted in a score of 25 to 11 in favor of the former.

The gentlemen's passenger room, at the Pittsburg depot, was closed to-day because the painters were busily engaged at work in it. A placard on the door read, "Buy your tickets at the office window in the ladies' passenger room."

A large delegation from Cleveland and eastern Ohio passed through the city last evening on the Pittsburg for Chicago. They were going to the convention for the purpose of shouting for McKinley, one of the dark-horse presidential candidates.

It is thought that the Ives party will now abandon the carrying out of the purchase of the Cincinnati, Wabash and Michigan road, so completely have they been frozen out in the Dayton, Fort Wayne and Chicago and the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton.

The earnings of the Pullman and Wagner Palace Car companies have been the largest, the last thirty days, in their history. The Wagner shows proportionately the larger increase, having fully 100 per cent. more cars in service than at any previous time.

The Chicago convention is the great topic of interest in the shops and cuts off the gathering of much of the personal gossip of the day. Our reporter is tackled and pumped for news in regard to the great republican convention. Being a newspaper man he is supposed to know who will be the nominee.

The machine department of the Bass foundry and machine works completed to-day one of the largest and heaviest steam engines ever built in this city. It is a 600 horse power engine, has a balance wheel that weighs 10,000 pounds and a cylinder with a forty-two by twenty-four inch stroke. It was built for the Indiana manufacturing company, of Peru, Ind., and will be shipped to that place to-morrow.

O. B. Sears, the Pittsburg brakeman who was so badly injured during the first part of last month by being struck by an overhead bridge, near Valparaiso, is now at his home in this city, No. 255 East Lewis street. He has been at the hospital of the Pennsylvania company ever since he received his injuries, but was able to be brought here last week. Although still confined to his room, he is getting along nicely and is glad to meet the friends who call to see him.

William Walters, an engineer on the Lake Erie and Western road, a few weeks ago obtained a leave of absence to visit friends in the northwest, and while absent he was induced to run one of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy engines, but not securing a passenger engine to run he returned to the Lake Erie and Western and resumed his run. The Lafayette division got hold of the facts in the case and demanded that Master Mechanic Riley discharge him, which was done, and the Lafayette division, of the Locomotive Brotherhood, have expelled him from their body.

A Good Appetite

Is essential to good health; but at this season it is often lost, owing to the poverty or impurity of the blood, derangement of the digestive organs, and the weakening effect of the changing season. Hood's Sarsaparilla is a wonderful medicine for creating an appetite, toning the digestion, and giving strength to the whole system. Now is the time to take it. Be sure to get Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Special Meeting.

A special meeting of the City Y. M. C. A. will be held in the rooms this evening at 8 p. m., city time. Business of importance will be transacted and a full attendance of the members is desired.

PLEASURE SEEKERS DROWNED.

A Yacht Capsizes and Five Young Ladies and a Boy Lose Their Lives

NEWARK, N. J., June 25.—A party of sixteen ladies and gentlemen hired the steam yacht Olivette and left this city Saturday night. It being flood tide, the jetty, at the mouth of the bay, was covered with water. The pilot had scarcely his bearings when he heard a sharp grating sound, and realizing that he was on the jetty, stopped the engine. Several of the male passengers jumped over on the jetty, and in doing so the boat lurched and slid off into deep water. The girls then made a rush for the side of the boat. This caused her to heel over suddenly, and in a second she turned bottom side up. The air was immediately filled with screams for help from a score of persons struggling for their lives in the water. Their cries were heard at Greenville and other points on the bay, and rescuers soon went to the scene of the accident. But when the boats arrived it was found that six of the party had been swept away and drowned. The names of the lost were: Louis Groff, aged twenty; Gussie Lutz, twenty; Lizzie Cethus, fifteen; Minnie Burger, nineteen; Gussie Weber, nineteen; Annie Fricke.

A BAD ONE.

Terrible Railroad Accident and One Man Killed.

Engineer Henry Track, of this city, was killed.

A fireman named Sweet, also of this place, was seriously, if not fatally, injured, and a lady passenger, whose name is not yet attainable, is seriously injured.

Surprised by Friends.

A very pleasant surprise party was given Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. Fitzpatrick, on East Lewis street, in honor of the thirty-fifth anniversary of Mrs. Fitzpatrick's birthday. The affair was very nicely arranged. During the absence of Mr. and Mrs. Fitzpatrick friends took possession of the house and on their return they were greeted by a half hundred merry voices singing "Home Again."

Mrs. Fitzpatrick was taken completely by surprise, which was greatly increased when she was escorted to the dining room and presented with an elegant and valuable tea set as a present from her husband. Capt. Robert Harrison made the presentation speech, which was responded to in a happy manner, after which the company sat down to an elegant repast that had been prepared for them.

Tony Hart Insane.

WORCESTER, Mass., June 25.—Tony Hart, who, in partnership with Ed Harrington, won a national reputation, was committed to the State Lunatic hospital here on Thursday. Dr. J. G. Park, superintendent of the hospital, says his affection is paresis and incurable. Hart has not been on the stage for over a year.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla operates radically upon the blood, thoroughly cleansing and invigorating it. As a safe and absolute cure for the various disorders caused by constitutional taint or infection, this has no equal. Take it this month.

To-night, June 25.

The colored masons will hold their public installation at their hall on Harrison street and will give a strawberry and ice cream social also. Everybody invited.

The Last Call.

Keil & Bro. offer from now until July 5th a large lot of remnants in gold wall paper at 8c a roll. These papers are as cheap at 8c as a gold dollar at 75c. Remember this is only for a few days. If you want a bargain it's now or never.

Fourth of July Excursion.

How to celebrate the anniversary of the independence of the United States is, at this time, a question in the minds of a great many people, and the Wabash railway anticipating the general desire of the public to go somewhere on this occasion, has reduced its rates to one fare for the round trip to and from all stations on its lines. Tickets will be on sale July 3 and 4, good for return passage until July 5 inclusive.

Judge Gresham.

Chicago Times.

Judge Gresham will go slipping down the slant of history as the good man whose friends were too numerous for their numbers.

The Reason Why

Ayer's Pills are so popular, that while always reliable as a cathartic medicine, they never leave any ill effects. This is because they are purely vegetable, and entirely free from calomel or any other dangerous drug. In all cases, therefore, whether the patient be old or young, they may be confidently administered.

In the Southern and Western States, where derangements of the liver are so general, Ayer's Pills have proved an inestimable blessing. D. W. Baine, New Berne, N. C., writes:

"I suffered a long time with stomach and liver troubles. I tried various remedies, but received no benefit until I commenced taking Ayer's Pills. These pills benefited me at once. I took them regularly for a few months, and my health was completely restored."

Throughout New England, next to lung diseases, Stomach and Bowel Complaints are the most prevalent.

Dyspepsia

and Constipation are almost universal. Mr. Gallacher, a practical chemist, of Roxbury, Mass., who was long troubled with Dyspepsia, writes:

"A friend induced me to try Ayer's Pills, and, after taking one box without much benefit, I was disposed to quit them; but he urged perseverance, and, before I had finished the second box, I began to experience relief. I continued taking them, at intervals, until I had used eleven boxes. Suffice it to say, that I am now a well man, and grateful to your chemistry, which outstrips mine."

The head and stomach are always in sympathy; hence the cause of most of those distressing headaches, to which so many, especially women, are subject. Mrs. Harriet A. Marble, of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., writes that for years she was a martyr to headache, and never found anything to give her more than temporary relief, until she began taking Ayer's Pills, since which she has been in the enjoyment of perfect health.

[English Mechanic.]

An army of locusts is a wonderful and an interesting sight to the traveler who does not own a yard of soil, and is a mere onlooker at their frightful devastation. It is Attila and his innumerable horses rushing over the vegetable world. To-day the wide plains are shining green with dense foliage; to-morrow nothing but brown twigs and bare branches, when the legions move off on their combined mission. As they arrive, the dense, dark clouds moving up from the horizon, and often obscuring the sun's rays, proclaim the approach of the widely dreaded scourge. The alarmed villagers congregate on the expected line of march, beating drums and brass pots, shouting and lighting bonfires and making all kinds of hideous noises. On one occasion, in South Africa, I drove off the enemy from a friend's garden by making four heaps of damp rubbish—one at each corner—in preparation, and then, lighting them at the proper moment, we dispersed the advance guard, our columns of thick smoke being carried by the wind upon the main body, which altered its route. Horses and oxen, their heads and nostrils tormented by the clinging limbs of the swarms, were bolting away to the woods, kicking and plunging in their hasty flight. A hissing, crackling sound arose on all sides, the whole air seemed to be occupied by the falling and flying imps of mischief. The "locust bird" (a kind of crane) hovered in small parties on their flanks, and subsisted on a very small percentage of the insect hosts. In desert localities the hungry pests actually pitched on bones, matting, sticks, etc., and failing in a meal attacked and devoured each other. On another occasion I drove for miles along a sandy tract, the wheels of the vehicle crushing myriads of the newly hatched insects, all crawling and creeping, with migratory instinct, toward the cultivated tracts. In India, locust visits are fewer between, but far more formidable, owing to the overwhelming masses. Sometimes a series of clouds, composed of their flights, cover several miles simultaneously. Fortunately, there are several birds and beasts in quest of their bodies, and I have even seen them salted, dried, and sold in the markets. I have often inspected a dish of curried locust, but could not bring a sufficient amount of curiosity to bear on the tasting experiment, though a prawny odor went up with the steam. The fishes are great devourers of these winged visitors, for they fall into lakes and rivers during changes of wind and weather. Besides fires made of green rubbish at top, I found gunpowder explosions very useful in scaring them away from the vicinity of my garden. When several successful hordes alighted on my grass land I loaded my gun with dust shot, and, stooping low on the ground, discharged the contents of both barrels into their midst. Having done so several times, I enjoyed the welcome sight of seeing them rising into the air and going elsewhere. I have no doubt a small cannon on such occasions, heavily loaded with sharp sand, would hasten their flight.

Bribery in India.

England is trying hard to make its Indian subjects prosperous and to elevate them, but since her first step was taken in the land she has found the nature of the people made the English rulers corrupt. A trial is now going on in Lahore which shows that it is hard even for English civil-service examiners to escape the temptation for taking bribes. It would be amusing to read the testimony of candidates for a higher grade of lawyers if it were not painful. Amusing because of the simplicity of the people in taking it for granted that nothing can be had except for pay, and the ease with which they invite themselves into traps. The climate seems to have acted on the people as it does upon their wooden furniture and doors. If one twists in a chair he breaks it down. If he moves a table he is liable to have it drop into pieces, and I have not seen a door in the land that fits as it was made. In the rainy season everything takes water as a sponge, and in the dry months it shrinks like a cake of country-made soap. It acts in like manner upon the moral nature of the flexible people.—Carter H. Harrison's letter from India.

In the "Society Column."

Young husband—Clara, my dear, I wish that in sending in notices of your luncheons to the Sunday papers you would not speak of yourself as Mrs. Harry Hustler, nee Van der Pool. I don't like it. Her husband's name should be sufficient for a wife.

Young wife (meekly)—Well, Harry, how shall I put it?

"Oh, say 'Mrs. Henry Hustler, wife of that enterprising and successful real estate man, Henry Hustler, whose beautiful residence addition is now upon the market.'"—Kansas City Times.

Ozone as a Germicide.

In some experiments with ozone as a curative agent, an English lady, so far advanced in consumption that her case appeared hopeless, has been treated with inhalation of this gas, with results described as marvelous. After a month's treatment, the appetite was regained, the sleep calm and refreshing, and there was a very good prospect of recovery. The ozone was prepared by passing a stream of oxygen through the current of an induction coil, and was administered with atmospheric air in the proportion of one in five. The experimenter has reached the conclusion that the ozone treatment is especially applicable to all germ diseases.—Arkansaw Traveler.

John Burroughs, whose great familiarity with plant and animal life is apparent in his popular magazine writings, says that the best remedy for ivy or sumac poisoning is the frequent application of hot water, as hot as it can be borne.

The Royal Dead of Spain.

All the dead kings of Spain are gathered beneath one roof. Whatever revolutions may have shaken the throne, it never occurred to the wildest fanatic to disturb the royal dead. For one thing they lay far away from the capital. The palace of the Escurial stands in the heart of a large and dreary plain. In the heart of the monster palace rises the dome of a spacious church, and beneath the center of this again, deep down in the bowels of the earth, we find the gloomy death-chamber devised by Philip of Spain. Philip II., bigot and ascetic, for months lay dying of a loathsome disease in a den not much larger than a railway carriage. No light could enter, save from a small opening into the church, whence, from his bed, he could look upon the altar and the golden monument of his father kneeling with all his wives and children, a curious life-size group, in a recess like the royal box at a theater on its further side. Here, in semi-darkness, lay the King, meditating on death and (while mortifying his body with ostentatious humility) framing those exclusive regulations which were to be observed, with regard to the royal sepulcher. None other than the actual monarchs of Spain were to have place within those walls. No queen consort, however beloved, might lie there beside her lord (unless, indeed, she should have been so highly favored as to have given birth to a king). All other queens, princes, and royalties whatsoever were laid in the "pudridero" (literally, decaying place). A long, dark, precipitous stairway leads down to the vault of kings. The flash of our descending torches showed that the walls were of costly marble, but no ray of wholesome daylight ever could reach that gruesome place. No lamp was there to lighten but a little the sense of deathlike gloom. Each wall of the octagonal chamber was deeply recessed, and fitted like a bookcase, except that the shelves were further apart, and also of marble. Each shelf supported a heavy sarcophagus of the florid ten caddy order—all black and all exactly alike, except as regards the pompous inscriptions, which, in the darkness, were difficult to decipher. Thus on all sides from the floor to the roof the vault was lined with kings. But few of the sarcophagi remained unoccupied, and when these are filled, says a Spanish tradition, the monarchy will come to an end. Ferdinand and Isabella, the founders of that monarchy, lie buried in fair Granada, and fitly so, since the conquest of that city (the last stronghold of the detested Moor) had been for many and many a year the chief aim and object of their lives. Their monuments are among the most beautiful we ever remembered to have seen. Raised somewhat aloft, each on a couch of fair white marble adorned with exquisite sculpture, they lie side by side, two noble recumbent figures. In a small vault made easily accessible by a few descending steps, their bodies repose beneath in coffins of plain grey stone, as simple as their monuments are superb. No pompous inscription here; no, not so much as a name. A tiny f on the one coffin, scratched, rather than engraved, on the stone, and a tiny y (for Ysabel) on the other; these alone serve to mark the distinction between the illustrious pair.

There will be no bareback riding in any American circus this year if Anthony Comstock knows himself.

Beware of Scrofula

Scrofula is probably more general than any other disease. It is insidious in character, and manifests itself in running sores, pustular eruptions, boils, swellings, enlarged joints, abscesses, sore eyes, etc. Hood's Sarsaparilla expels all trace of scrofula from the blood, leaving it pure, enriched, and healthy.

"I was severely afflicted with scrofula, and over a year had two running sores on my neck. Took five bottles Hood's Sarsaparilla, and am cured." C. E. LOVEJOY, Lowell, Mass.

C. A. Arnold, Arnold, Me., had scrofulous sores for seven years, spring and fall. Hood's Sarsaparilla cured him.

Salt Rheum

Is one of the most disagreeable diseases caused by impure blood. It is readily cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier.

William Spies, Elyria, O., suffered greatly from erysipelas and salt rheum, caused by handling tobacco. At times his hands would crack open and bleed. He tried various preparations without aid; finally took Hood's Sarsaparilla, and now says: "I am entirely well."

"My son had salt rheum on his hands and on the calves of his legs. He took Hood's Sarsaparilla and is entirely cured." J. B. Stanton, Mt. Vernon, Ohio.

Advice to Mothers.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. mar-17-1y

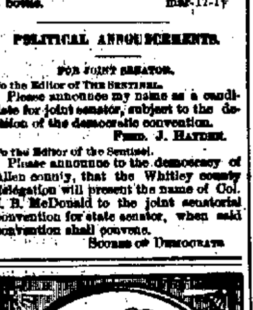
SCORES OF DEMOCRATS.



The treatment of many thousands of cases of those chronic weaknesses and distressing ailments peculiar to females, at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., has afforded a vast experience in nicely adapting and thoroughly testing remedies for the cure of woman's peculiar maladies.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the outgrowth, or result, of this great and valuable experience. Thousands of testimonials, received from patients and from physicians who have tested it in the more aggravated and obstinate cases which had baffled their skill, prove it to be the most wonderful remedy ever devised for the relief and cure of suffering women. It is not recommended as a "cure-all," but as a most perfect Specific for woman's peculiar ailments.

As a powerful, invigorating tonic, it imparts strength to the whole system, and to the womb and its appendages in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," housekeepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nervine, "Favorite Prescription" is unequaled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, exhaustion, prostration, hysteria, spasms and other distressing, nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the womb. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a legitimate medicine, carefully compounded by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate organization. It is purely vegetable in its composition and perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the system. For morning sickness, or nausea, from whatever cause arising, weak stomach, indigestion, dyspepsia and kindred symptoms, its use, in small doses, will prove very beneficial.

"Favorite Prescription" is a positive cure for the most complicated and obstinate cases of leucorrhea, excessive flowing, painful menstruation, unnatural suppressions, prolapsus, or falling of the womb, weak back, "female weakness," anteversion, retroversion, bearing-down sensations, chronic congestion, inflammation and ulceration of the womb, inflammation, pain and tenderness in ovaries, accompanied with "internal heat."

As a regulator and promoter of functional action, at that critical period of change from girlhood to womanhood, "Favorite Prescription" is a perfectly safe remedial agent, and can produce only good results. It is equally efficacious and valuable in its effects when taken for those disorders and derangements incident to that later and most critical period, known as "The Change of Life."

"Favorite Prescription," when taken in connection with the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and small laxative doses of Dr. Pierce's Purgative Pellets (Little Liver Pills), cures Liver, Kidney and Bladder diseases. Their combined use also removes blood taints, and abolishes cancerous and scrofulous humors from the system.

"Favorite Prescription" is the only medicine for women, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee, from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money will be refunded. This guarantee has been printed on the bottle-wrapper, and faithfully carried out for many years.

Large bottles (100 doses) $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00.

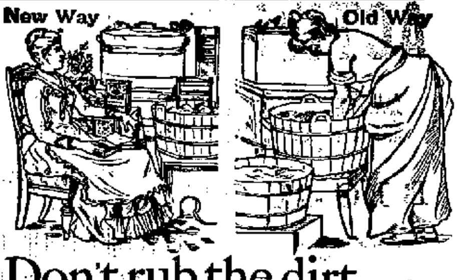
MAGNOLIA

BALM gives a Exquisitely Beautiful Skin. Readily used and can't be detected. One trial convinces!



Don't rub the dirt out of your clothes because your ancestors did. Keep up with the times. Try modern ideas for saving labor. James Pyle's PEARLINE leads all of those which pertain to cleanliness.

What is it that frays your collars, cuffs and skirts and pulls off the buttons and strings? What is it that ruins your paint? It's the old-fashioned way of rub, rub, rub, to make clean. PEARLINE does away with most of the rubbing, so it saves the worst of the wear.

You don't want an imitation, do you? Beware of them. PEARLINE is manufactured only by James Pyle, New York, notwithstanding the plausible stories told by peddlers and some grocers to the contrary.

GRATEFUL—COMFORTING.

EPPS'S COCOA

BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame." —Civil Service Gazette.

Made simply with boiling water or milk. Sold only in half pound tins by grocers, labeled thus:

Farmers are harvesting hay between showers.

The S. S. club picnicked in the country yesterday.

Mr. Lew Ogden, of Bluffton, spent Sunday in the city.

Henry Neuhaus now drives a trotter and is gayer than anybody.

Mr. and Mrs. John Koch will take a pleasure trip through Michigan this week.

Councilman Williams and Mr. W. P. Breen returned from Chicago Saturday night.

Allen Baxter has sold to Elizabeth Baxter, lot 20, Hinde's second addition, for $2,000.

Miss Mollie Cross, of Lima, Ohio, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Cross, of 175 Ewing street.

Miss Emma Smith and Miss Fannie Humphreys are spending the summer at Bismarck, Dakota.

Rev. J. M. Fulton delivered a masterly sermon yesterday morning upon the subject "The Child Model."

Charles Pfiett has been given a permit to build a one story frame house on lot 9, Hanna's addition, to cost $700.

Supt. McNutt has a force of men repairing the cobble stone between the street railway tracks on Calhoun street.

Mrs. Geo. Kennard, who has been visiting Mrs. Sam Henderson, returned to her home at Champaign, Ill., last night.

A farmer's team ran away this morning, on West Columbia street, and smashed the buggy in a pretty bad manner.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin App returned from their wedding trip yesterday and have taken pleasant apartments on East Wayne street.

Miss Annie Kamm, who has been the guest of Miss Carrie Ervin three weeks, left for her home at Grand Crossing, Ill., Saturday evening.

The Butchers' barbecue at the Centlivre park yesterday was a success and the crowd was royally wined and dined. They call it a "sacred barbecue."

Mr. Martin C. Bende, who is attending the theological college at St. Louis, Mo., will return home this week to spend the summer vacation in this city.

Capt. and Mrs. F. H. Barnard are taking a two week's trip up through the northern lakes and will visit Milwaukee, St. Paul, Duluth and Chicago before their return.

The trains from Chicago yesterday were crowded with returning statesmen. They are tired, weary and disappointed but incline to the belief that Blaine will be the nominee.

The Indiana Music Teacher's association convenes at Indianapolis to-night. A feature on the program is a discussion by W. F. Heath, of Fort Wayne, and Sam Williams, of Winchester.

The sixth of the series of special sermons to the young men, which Rev. Northrop is delivering, attracted a large audience to the First Baptist church last night. The subject, "The Bank Book or Some Stepping Stones to Success" was ably handled and proved very interesting and instructive.

The "Gresham" streamer no longer floats from the Jenney electric light works. Like the boom it succumbed to time and the weather. The Gresham hanger on the Olds wagon works has twisted itself out of shape and lies peacefully on the roof. There is not so much solidity for Gresham as there was.

Rev. D. O. Woolpert led the afternoon meeting at the Y. M. C. A. rooms yesterday. Instead of the usual talk he had a sort of Methodist experience meeting and a number of members delivered short and interesting speeches of that character. The meeting was one of the most profitable the association has held for a long time.

Mr. C. A. Brown, one of the engineers on the New York, Mahoning and Western road, is in the city. He says the suits against the company grew out of the disposition of the South Chicago Rolling Mill company to deliver the man material then necessary and the consequent refusal of the railroad to pay out any money. "The suits are now all settled and we will have our track laid into Findlay by next Saturday," said Mr. Brown.

There are 180 saloons in the city now—a gain of fifty in the last year.

Conductor A. G. Estry visited County Clerk Glenn, at Huntington yesterday.

Chief Diehl drove the patrol wagon Saturday night as Geo. Swain was not on duty.

Dr. Bowen went to Niagara Falls today to attend the American Institute of Homeopathy.

Mrs. Frank Lightfoot, of West Berry street, is happily recovering from a severe illness.

Mr. B. T. McDonald was in the city yesterday. He still insists that Gresham will be nominated.

A promenade concert and strawberry festival will be inaugurated at Library hall to-morrow night.

The school trustees are drawing their portion of the school money from County Treasurer Mowrer.

Mrs. A. D. Guild and Mrs. M. W. Grumell are spending a few weeks at the lake side in Michigan.

James Tart, Joe Didier, Ottis Bucklin and Wm. Johnson were before the mayor this morning for drunkenness.

Miss Ella Simplott, of Dubuque, Iowa, who has been visiting Miss Addie Davis, returned to her home this morning.

The city council will meet to-morrow night in regular session. The finance committee audited the bills this afternoon.

Frank Higbee, the tough bootblack and two women were fined for indulging in a lark at the Apple Orchard Saturday night.

Dr. Shyrock left to day to attend the meeting of the State Dental association which is in session this week at Terre Haute.

Mr. Frank J. Woulfe, one of the brightest clerks in Col. C. A. Zollinger's office at Indianapolis, was the guest of his parents over Sunday.

Mr. August Lordier this morning received a telegram announcing the death of his aged mother at Portsmouth, Ohio. Mrs. Lordier was seventy-seven years of age.

Miss Eurgia Bowers and Miss Annie Drake, two charming young ladies from Kendallville, are the guests of Mrs. O. A. Bekers, jr., of West Washington street.

Supt. McNutt, of the street railway, has put on all night cars on the Calhoun street line and finds that it pays. The lines are all paying under his management, and ought to.

The Business Men's exchange will meet this evening at 7:30 o'clock to investigate the report published in the papers concerning the insolvency of the New York, Mahoning and Western railroad.

The ladies' auxiliary of the railroad department of the Y. M. C. A. will hold a special meeting Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, city time, at the parlors of the department building. A full attendance is desired.

The cottage meeting of the railroad department of the Y. M. C. A. will be held at the home of Mr. Amos Sine, Webster street, near Dawson, Tuesday evening at 7:30, standard time. Everybody invited.

The Monroeville Breeze says: "Miss Connie Heller, of Fort Wayne, who has been visiting at the residence of Mr. J. B. Niezer for the past week, returned home yesterday, accompanied by Miss Lee Niezer."

The preliminary steps are being taken in New York this week looking to a consolidation of the Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana divisions of the new road under the name of the United States Central Railroad company.

Hon. R. C. Bell made a tour of the district last week and was received with great favor everywhere. Mr. Bell is making an honest, manly canvass and is regarded as the strongest man in the congressional race.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Hoffman and daughter are visiting relatives in Virginia. Next week they will leave for New York, where they will sail for Liverpool, to spend the summer traveling through Europe.

Andrew J. Cottingham, who has been in business on Calhoun street for some weeks past, dissolved partnership Saturday night last and proceeded to celebrate the event. He fell into Officer Fuchsuhuber's arms and was fined for drunkenness.

The Fort Wayne base ball club is at home for a two weeks' lay off, occasioned by the withdrawal of the Lafayette and Frankfort nines from the league. Next Wednesday they will play the Fort Browns at the Fair grounds. It is to be a benefit game.

J. H. Jackson, a Scipio township farmer, was thrown from his wagon on Spy Run avenue, near the St. Joe bridge last evening. His team was frightened by the barbecue fiends and threw Mr. Jackson headforemost to the ground. It was thought for a time that his neck was broken.

The Chicago Herald says that M. W. Simons voted against Gen. Harrison because his brother, the late O. A. Simons, did not get the postmastership. In Fort Wayne publications like these are harmless and fall on deaf ears, but abroad they lead men to believe that there is some truth in them.

The Monroeville Breeze says: "An accident, that might have been fatal, occurred to our citizen, Mr. M. E. Agro, on Thursday morning. In attempting to lead one of his Durham bulls he was thrown against a gatepost, the bull pinioned Mr. Argo's hand to the post, goring and tearing it frightfully. Dr. Connoly dressed the wound."

Mr. James Wilkinson, the deputy federal marshal, has instituded suit through his attorney, J. B. Harper, United States commissioner, against the deputy United States marshal at St. Louis for damages. Mr. Wilkinson claims that the marshal at St. Louis unlawfully retained a box containing 1,000 pounds of opium, worth over $20,000 on which he claims that he was entitled to a commission of $11,000.

An infant child of Leonard Yokel was buried to-day.

The Academy of Music closed for the season Saturday.

Mrs. M. A. Merriweather has been ill at Jeffersonville.

Col. C. A. Zollinger, is rusticating at West Baden springs.

The funeral of Mrs. Chas. Hans was largely attended yesterday.

Frank X. Didier and Mary J. Rommey have been licensed to wed.

Capt. and Mrs. F. H. Barnard are making a tour of the northwest.

Mrs. A. C. Keel is at Canton, Ohio, at the bedside of her sister, who is ill.

Chairman Will Wilson is at home from Chicago. He is still for Gresham.

Dr. Shyrock is attending the Indiana State Dental association at Terre Haute.

D. F. French, of No. 2 Center street, died of dropsy Saturday and was buried yesterday.

Dr. Harry Gould and Frank Read have gone to Medicine Lodge, Kansas, to locate.

Jacob Parker and Perry Snurr have been discharged from the state insane asylum as incurable.

Laura Krocket was arrested to-day for assault on Eliza Lyon. Justice France has the case.

Mrs. Chas. Doudrick died yesterday in child birth. This family has had its share of misfortune. Some months ago Mr. Doudrick lost both his lower limbs and next their child died. Mrs. Doudrick will be buried to-morrow from the Cathedral.

THE NEW ROAD.

The Quarrel Between It and the Rolling Mill Company.

The dispute between the New York, Mahoning and Western railroad will probably be adjusted in New York to-morrow, by President Norvin Green. The company claims that the Chicago rolling mill delivered five times as many fish plates as the contract called for and the suit brought was for the purpose of forcing their acceptance. The amount due the mill company has been tendered and unless accepted the rights of the parties will have to be determined by litigation.

In the meantime Messrs. Sisby and Huss, contractors, have 1,000 men at work east from North Adams to twenty miles east from Findlay, and are laying one and one half miles of track per day. This firm of contractors is one of the largest and wealthiest in the United States and have no fear as to the solvency of the New York, Mahoning and western railroad company.

A DEADLY DUEL.

Two Alabamians Fight a Duel and Both are Killed.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., June 25.—Melville A. Miles, a young white man, and a negro named Wash Harralson, fought with pistols yesterday near Richmond, Ala. Both were killed. Miles is an overseer and Harralson a laborer.

Two Men Killed by an Explosion.

ANGAMORE, Ind., June 25.—Saturday about 5 o'clock, a saw-mill situated about ten miles north of this city was blown into splinters by the explosion of one of the boilers. The cause is supposed to have been insufficiency of water in the boiler. Two of the laborers were instantly killed and others seriously if not fatally injured. The men killed were Samuel King and Daniel Logue, both leaving families in almost destitute circumstances. The loss of property is $1,000.

Superior Court.

Before Hon. A. A. Chapin:

Dr. A. J. Laubach, administrator, vs. H. M. Diehl judgment for plaintiff for $189.75.

P. M. Howe vs. Josiah Tilton judgment for plaintiff for $107.49.

Stringer vs. Weir, judgment for $500 on a former verdict.

Blocked His Game.

"What's your name, little girl?" he asked as he stopped to pat her on the head

"I won't tell," was the reply.

"Why not, my dear?"

"'Cause you want to get it and then holler 'chestnut' at me!"—Detroit Free Press.

Excursion to Lake Maxinkuckee, Thursday, June 28. Everybody invited.

EMPEROR WILLIAM!

Opens the Reichstag With Pomp and Brilliancy—He Wants Peace With All Nations.

BERLIN, June 25.—The reichstag was opened to-day with pomp and brilliancy. The emperor was escorted with great ceremony to the white hall of the old castle where he declared the session open. Throughout his speech the emperor dwelt upon Germany's pacific disposition. He says her policy aims only to ward off attacks, not to acquire military glory. The empire, he declares, desires peace with all nations.

HARRISON'S NOMINATION.

It is Deposited Like an Arctic Wave on the Local Republicans.

If a midwinter gale swept over the city to-day it could hardly have chilled the republicans as did the news of General Harrison's nomination at Chicago.

There was an exceedingly strong Gresham element in this community and the struggle between the chieftains imbittered their friends to an irreconcilable degree.

The news of Harrison's nomination was received in silence. There were more tears than cheers and on every corner republicans gathered in knots to condemn the work.

Rev. D. O. Woolpert said to Dr. Stemen, "Mr. Harrison's nomination is a mistake."

Chairman Will Wilson, Andy Purman, Reader Smith and a party of demonstrative republicans were bemoaning their fate at the depot when THE SENTINEL man approached. "How do you like the nomination," was put at them.

"Can't you hear us cheer," said Mr. Wilson with all the sarcasm he could inject into the expression and then the little circle proceeded to discuss the ways and means of doing Carr and Michener up.

A prominent republican merchant, who requests that his name be omitted for business reasons, said: "Harrison is not a great man. He is very ordinary and has no qualifications for the presidency to commend him above Cleveland. His nomination means defeat for no man will run the chance of unsettling the business of the country for such a man as he is."

"Its only a question of how large the democratic majority will be," said a republican lawyer, and so runs the sentiment.

All over the city republicans look on the nomination coldly and it is not extravagant to put Allen county down for 5,000 democratic majority.

THE "Kicker" MAN.

This is the latest from the Arizona Kicker:

"Last week a one-eyed greaser from Mexico struck this town with a string-game and cleaned some of our best citizens out of their spare dollars. He skipped out just in time to avoid getting a neck-hold on a rope hung over a limb, and no sooner had he gone than there was a wild rush to our office and a general demand that we write,

A LURID EDITORIAL,
DECLARING WAR
AGAINST MEXICO.

"We declined, and because we declined such epithets as 'alien,' 'coward,' 'tory,' etc., have been flung at us by unseen fingers. We don't propose to plunge the United States into a long and bloody war to accommodate half a dozen suckers and greenhorns, and those who don't like our policy in this respect can lump it. All orders to 'stop my paper' will meet with promptness and dispatch."—Detroit Free

WHAT vaulting ambitions aloft man can raise,
What fond aspirations engender,
When he's held like a horse with a one-sided trace,
By the backstrap of half a suspender?
We believe that the hopes a man has of the crown
He might surely be led to surrender,
When he feels himself pulled, jerked, hauled, and dragged down
By a left-handed, one-button suspender.
